

THE VERNON RECORD

VOLUME NO. 11

VERNON, WILBARGER COUNTY, TEXAS, OCT. 15, 1918

NUMBER 78

WILBARGER IS OVER 4TH LIBERTY LOAN QUOTA BY $65,000

Purchase of Bonds Amounting To Nearly Fifty Per Cent Above Allotment Is Increasing—Council of Defense Is Telling Slackers What They Must Do—Very Plain Talk.

Wilbarger county has over-subscribed her quota of the fourth Liberty Loan by $65,000. The total at the close of business last night was $209,000.

Subscriptions continue to come in, and it seems probable that the subscription will reach $215,000 by the close of the week.

Two additional $1,000 subscriptions were reported this week. Robert Housels, president of the Waggoner National Bank, wrote from Long Beach, Calif., where he has been for some time, to place his subscription in the local quota for $1,000. J. H. Kincheloe, one of the largest owners of farm land in the county, took $1,000.

W. R. Piper of Denton increased his subscription to the county quota by $500 this week, while he was here visiting his brother. He has asked for $10,500 of the fourth issue in this county.

Those who have taken $500 of the bonds, not already published follow: W. O. Anderson, The Texas Company, A. C. Boger, R. B. Judd, J. D. Parnell, J. E. Gregory, A. M. Hiatt, B. E. Roberts, Mrs. Mary E. Roberts, F. & M. Gin Company, R. T. Harriss Farm.

Council of Defense "Mopping Up."
The campaign so far as the fourth Liberty Loan is concerned has developed into a "mopping up" process. Like the armies in France, the Liberty Loan forces in the county have gone over the top, attained all objectives and swept beyond, and their energies are now put into consolidating the "positions" and "mopping up" the slackers who have not advanced with the main body of Wilbarger citizenship.

The county Council of Defense is holding nightly sessions and those who have failed to do their duty on this Loan are being told plainly what they must do. Quite a number have already been before the body, and subscriptions are beginning to come into local banks as a result of these interviews.

In most cases, after the matter is explained, those who are called before the Council readily agree to buy more bonds. In a few cases, however, some very plain talk has been necessary.

"If a man doesn't do his duty after it has been pointed out to him, he must be classed where he belongs in the list of unpatriotic citizens," is the plan adopted by the Council.

If the means being used do not bring the desired results more stringent measures will be adopted.

"Our duty to the more than 600 boys who have gone from our county to fight demands that we compel if necessary, the people to take their share of Liberty Bonds," one member of the Council said, and this seems to represent the sentiment of the other members.

PEARS BROUGHT 10 CENTS EACH.

Total of $23.05 Was Raised by Red Cross Saturday from Bushel Donated by Mrs. Lutz.

A total of $23.05 was raised Saturday afternoon by the Red Cross from a bushel of giant pears donated by Mrs. J. E. Lutz. The bushel was disposed of by Mmes. W. K. Long, T. P. Griffith, Paul Goetze, S. W. Bailey, and Miss Lillian Murchison.

Guesses were sold as to the weight of the pears, and S. W. Bailey won. The bushel weighed 51 1/2 pounds. Mr. Bailey then gave the pears back to the Red Cross, and they were sold at 10 cents each.

The fruit was luscious, and those in charge declare that they could have disposed of ten bushels at 10 cents each.

Good Rain at Thalia.

F. C. Mints and G. C. Dale of Thalia were callers at The Record office yesterday. They report the best rain around Thalia that has fallen in a long time. Prospects are that there will be a large acreage of wheat. Mr. Mints has two cases of Spanish Influenza in his home. His son from Fort Worth is visiting him this week.

MARINES LEAVE ON SPEAKING TOUR TO HELP SELL BONDS

Privates Pelton and Rape, Accompanied by W. H. Huggins, W. A. Atchison and C. B. Johnson Will Attend Liberty Loan Rally at Paducah—Will Visit Other Towns.

Privates Arthur Pelton and Leslie Rape of the United States Marine Corps left Vernon yesterday on a speaking tour in behalf of the fourth Liberty Loan. They were accompanied by W. H. Huggins.

The young fighting men will visit Crowell, Benjamin, Munday, Knox City, and Paducah. They are scheduled to speak at a big Liberty Loan rally in Paducah Wednesday. The marines who were wounded in the fighting at Chateau Thierry returned to Vernon Sunday morning, after having spent Friday and Saturday at Henrietta and Seymour.

W. A. Atchison and C. B. Johnson will also attend the Liberty Loan rally at Paducah.

They spoke before a mass meeting at the Baptist tabernacle Sunday afternoon, and at different churches Sunday night, relating the terrible experiences of the fighting at Verdun and Chateau Thierry, when Lundendorff's drive that was to end the war was checked and the offensive passed to General Foch, where it yet remains. In addition to the experiences related at the high school Thursday, the young men told of the atrocities the Germans have committed, which they saw with their own eyes—of little boys with their fingers cut off, and of young girls who had been wronged by the victorious soldiers, of how the Germans would call "Kamerad" when they got into a close place, watching for an opportunity to throw a hand grenade if a man accepted their fall in good faith.

Both men were wounded and Private Rape lay on the field eight hours. Three bullets passed through his stretcher as he was being carried to the first aid hospital, and the hospital was gassed just after he had left it.

Another party of speakers left here this morning for Archer City, Throckmorton and Haskell. It included two marines, each of whom lost a leg in the terrible fighting at Chateau Thierry, when the German invaders were turned back by Americans who did not know how to retreat. The men were accompanied by J. D. Parnell, who is in charge of speakers for Northwest Texas, that work having been turned over to the Vernon Chamber of Commerce by the Federal office in Dallas.

WANT CHICKENS FOR ORPHANS.

Baptist Women Will Make Shipment This Week to Buckner's Home in Dallas.

"Remember Buckner Orphans' Home Chicken Day!" This is the slogan of the Baptist women of Vernon and Wilbarger county. Mrs. A. H. Murchison is in charge of the plan to furnish chickens to the orphans in Dallas.

"For years Wilbarger county has given the orphans chickens to eat one day in October," Mrs. Murchison says. "It takes 150 chickens to make one meal. Let everybody help, as children of all denominations are in the home. It takes $300 a day to feed these orphans, so that if you do not have chickens, give money."

Chickens are to be left with G. B. Zachry at the White Produce Company on North Main street, not later than Saturday, October 19, or notify Mrs. A. H. Murchison.

Tolbert Man Lost Two Tanks.

M. W. Boger of Tolbert was a caller at The Record office yesterday, and advises that he lost two tanks as a result of last week's rain. A third tank came near going out, but Mr. Boger found where the water was running underneath the dam as a result of cray fish holes, and he dug these out, filling them up with sacks of dirt.

Minor Starr's Horse Fell.

Minor Starr suffered a severely sprained foot Sunday afternoon, when his horse fell. Young Starr is a son of H. S. Starr, and was north of Pease River driving up some cattle. While the injury is very painful, the young man hopes to be able to get around soon.

CAMOUFLAGING A GUN TO FOOL THE MEASLY HUN

To hide the long smooth barrel of the gun and its tell-tale circular wheels from prying eyes, vivid colors are applied which break up the normal outlines and appearance of the gun. Big sheets of netting covered with greenery further conceal the presence of the gun from enemy aviators.

ASK PUPILS HELP TO GET PEACH SEEDS

GOVERNMENT URGES THAT EACH PERSON GATHER ENOUGH FOR ONE GAS MASK.

No more important appeal has been made to the American people than this, says the Gas Defense Division of the War Department. Unless this campaign is a success it will be impossible to furnish the best masks to our men during the next few months.

"It should be clearly understood that the American Red Cross has been officially designated as the organization in charge of the campaign for peach stones, apricot, plum, and olive pits, date seeds, brazil nut, walnut, hickory-nut, and butter-nut shells."

Two hundred peach stones will produce enough carbon for one gas mask. Seven pounds of nut shells will also produce enough carbon for one mask. "Let each person in the county be called upon to furnish carbon for at least one mask," is the appeal.

Following this suggestion the local Red Cross has had a quantity of circulars printed and will distribute them to the schools over the county. It is hoped to enlist school children, and give them a chance to show their patriotism. Names should be turned in, because The Record would like to print an honor roll of the boys and girls, and their elders, who are patriotic enough to gather these articles to help save the lives of Wilbarger county boys fighting in France.

The seeds should be dried and left at the Red Cross rooms on North Main street, or with Geo. J. Mason at Swartwood & Company's.

Boxes will be placed at the drug stores for receiving tin, while tin cans can not be used, tobacco foil, chewing gum foil, foil from around chocolate candy, and any other kind of foil is very valuable. Collapsible tubes made to contain tooth paste, shaving cream, salve, paints, etc., are valuable; as are pewter articles.

While it is not expected that any large quantity of platinum will be received, undoubtedly many will make contributions of this material. Platinum should be left at N. R. Heath's jewelry store.

SERVICES DISCONTINUED.

Elder Horace W. Busby Returns to Fort Worth Suffering From Attack of Influenza.

Special services at the Church of Christ closed Saturday night, when it became necessary for Elder Horace W. Busby to return to his home in Fort Worth. Elder Busby was stricken with a severe attack of Spanish influenza.

Elder Austin Taylor, whose home is in Weatherford, and who had charge of the singing, returned home with Elder Busby. Both men expect to return to Vernon and begin a series of services the third Sunday in next September.

The meeting had continued only one week, and good interest was manifest. There were eighteen additions to the local church. Eleven were by baptism, six by letter, and one by reclamation.

URGES BROOM CORN GROWING IN COUNTY

FORMER WILBARGER MAN IN BECKHAM COUNTY, OKLA., SAYS CROP WOULD DO WELL.

In a letter to The Record this week, L. C. Crutchfield of Sayre, Okla., formerly of Wilbarger county, says he sees no reason why broom corn should not be grown generally by local farmers. It is a very profitable crop and with the longer growing season here should do well.

Mr. Crutchfield's letter follows: "I moved from Wilbarger to Beckham county, Okla., January 1st, and am well pleased with the move. One advantage we have here is two money crops, cotton and broom corn, instead of one."

"I see no reason whatever why broom corn is not grown in Wilbarger county. The climate is about the same. Our season is somewhat shorter here. We had a light frost September 28th. That would be one advantage in favor of Wilbarger. "Some of our best broom corn is planted from July 1st to 15th, which would be too late to plant cotton. Another advantage is that broom corn is harvested before cold weather."

GIN REPORTS SHOW 56 PER CENT CROP

Cotton reports show that about 3,800 bales of the fleecy staple have been ginned from Wilbarger county farms. This is based on an estimate of 5 per cent of the amount reported by Wilbarger county gins having gone to Chillicothe and Rayland. That figure has proven about correct heretofore.

Of this number the Vernon gins report 1,511, as follows: Planters 639, Farmers 430, F. & M. 412. Oklahoma reports 273, Fargo 240, Lockett 328, Tolbert 150, and the three gins at Odell 763—divided Star 415, S. B. Sutton 224, Chickasha Cotton Oil Company 194 bales. No report was received from the Elliott gin.

The local gins have handled nearly 80 per cent as much cotton as at this time last year, while gins in the county report about 60 per cent.

Cotton is quoted at around 30 cents a pound.

DON'T FORGET

That the price of The Record advances to $2.00 November 1st, and that all subscriptions not actually paid in advance will be discontinued. This is a Government regulation and the publishers have no option in the matter. Don't put off attending to your renewal another day. Either call at office or mail check.

ORIGINAL HISTORY SOURCES RECEIVED

CARNEGIE LIBRARIAN ALSO HAS COPIES OF KIPLING'S SCRAPBOOKS AND STORY HOLDERS

Harper's Encyclopedia of United States History in ten volumes is a recent addition to the public library. This set of books not only discusses all the historical events in American history, but also contains the original documents, treaties, journals, proclamations, and narratives from original sources.

The librarian wishes to thank the following for donations of books: Miss Vineta Denny, eight volumes of fiction; Mrs. W. H. Rogers, eleven volumes of fiction; Mrs. Della Housels, twenty-five text books.

Sample copies of the Kipling Scrapbook and Story-Holders have been ordered so that library patrons interested in doing something for the soldiers can procure them through the librarian. Rudyard Kipling started this work in England and the idea spread like wildfire. Hundreds of thousands of scrapbooks have been filled by the "home-folks," and sent as tokens of affection to the soldiers and sailors at the front.

"Scrapbooks have done wonders for the men in whiling away the time and making life more pleasant for them," says a military authority. "Colored pictures, short stories, poems and jokes are eagerly seized upon by the soldiers. Colored pictures are preferred to black and white. They must be attractive, cheerful and large enough to be seen easily. Comic cartoons and clippings with 'news' from home are enjoyed. Poems of sentiment are liked best by the soldiers, not war verse or anything 'blue.'"

"The primary use of stories in Story-holders is to cheer the dreary days of the sick and wounded soldiers in the hospitals. They are physically unable to hold heavy books and magazines, and are too weak to enjoy anything but short, snappy, extremely interesting articles."

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Williams were called to Chillicothe yesterday because of the death of Mr. Williams' brother-in-law, A. W. Ferris, who died Sunday night. Mr. Ferris was formerly manager of the Orient Milling Company at Chillicothe, and was later associated with Kemp & Kell of Wichita Falls in the oil business. The Record joins friends in expressions of sympathy.

Roy S. Gordon Overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gordon have received word that their son, Private Roy S. Gordon, has arrived safely overseas. He entrained July 16 for Fort Sam Houston, but received most of his training at Camp McArthur. He is with the 28th Company, S. A. R. D.

Hampton to Camp Dick.

E. W. Hampton returned Saturday from Wichita Falls, and leaves today for Camp Dick, Dallas. He will be in the repair depot of the aviation field.

"UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER" WILSON'S ANSWER TO CRY FOR PEACE EMANATING FROM GERMAN WAR LORDS' SPOKESMAN

Nations Must Withdraw Submarines and Stop Perpetration of Atrocities on Land and Water Before Cessation Can Be Considered—Armistice Left With Military Advisers—Will Continue Sending 250,000 Men a Month to Europe.

Unconditional surrender—that sums up the substance of President Wilson's decision as to the German reply in response to his query sent asking explanation of the first Hun peace note. The president makes it plain that there can be nothing done until Germany withdraws her submarines from the sea and stops the perpetration of atrocities on both land and water.

No final peace may be expected, the President indicates, until the overthrow of the Hohenzollern dynasty and the downfall of the cruel military autocracy that plunged the whole world into war.

So far as the "processes" of evacuation and an armistice are concerned, President Wilson says those are matters which must be left to the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the Governments of the United States and the Allies. There can be no arrangements considered for either evacuation or armistice unless Germany gives ample guarantees of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and the Allies in the field.

The Government will continue to send over 250,000 men with their supplies every month, and there will be no relaxation of any kind.

The President has shown that not one detail of the war in connection with the enemy's practices has escaped his attention. He indicates his horror and the horror of the entire civilized world with regard to the German atrocities. Peace is out of the question, he says, until these practices are stopped.

Hohenzollerns Indicted.

He pens a terrific indictment against the Germany of the Hohenzollerns and military autocracy in describing the hypocrisy of a plea for peace, coming at a time when cities and towns in France and Belgium have the torch applied to them, when civilian populations are herded off en masse and enslaved and when unprotected lifeboats with survivors from torpedoed ships are deliberately shelled by enemy submarines and their passengers murdered.

The moot point in Prince Max's reply—the one concerning the makeup of the "present German Government"—is settled with the President's clearest expression.

He repeats a portion of his Mount Vernon address, wherein he declared the destruction of "every arbitrary power anywhere that can separately, secretly and of its single choice disturb the peace of the world; or, if it cannot be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotency."

This is the President's broadside at the Hohenzollerns and he follows it up with an open suggestion to the German people as to how they may obtain peace. He says:

"It is within the choice of the German people to alter it."

The United States and the other Allied Governments, in other words, are not going to take any chances in dealing with a Germany that might essay to portray herself as a camouflaged democracy. To paraphrase the President's words on this point:

"We want to know beyond a peradventure with whom we are dealing."

Consequently, if Germany really wants peace and the indications are all in that direction, the Hohenzollerns must go. For this reason, it is suggested tonight, officials would not be surprised to hear of the abdication of the Kaiser at any time, or even of a revolution within the German Empire that would compel his abdication.

Defer to Fighters.

The President by his decision reveals that the military side of the war, and not the diplomatic, is foremost in his mind. In leaving to the Allied Commander in Chief of the field of battle and his generals, who are in turn the commanders of the various Allied Armies, the matter of the processes of evacuation or an armistice, the President allays whatever fear there may have been on this score.

Some military men were inclined to think that Germany, allowed to retreat in orderly fashion to the Rhine, without the loss of men and material, would be in a better position strategically than her armies are today. But this thought is obliterated now that it is known that military men—and not a mixed commission as Prince Max of Baden, the German Chancellor, requested—will see that every little detail which Germany might have hoped to capitalize is covered.

Austrian Course Conjecture.

Much conjecture was aroused in the capital last night because of the President's statement that he would make a separate reply to the "Royal and Imperial Government of Austria-Hungary" which submitted a peace proposal practically identical to the German note.

His action toward Austria is now the next move on the chess board of peace and great possibilities are expected. The President, it was indicated, may take advantage of the fearful international conditions now in the dual monarchy and arrange a separate peace—on the terms of the Allies—and this, of course, would hasten the downfall of Germany as a military foe.

REV. S. A. BARNES PREACHES.

Former Pastor, Now at Wichita Falls, Says Man Was Purchased on Installment Plan.

"The Ransomed Price" or "The Value of a Soul" was the subject of a strong sermon at the Methodist church by Rev. S. A. Barnes of Wichita Falls. Rev. Barnes was formerly pastor of the Vernon church, and is very popular here.

"Everything that God has created is temporal and transitory, except the soul," Rev. Barnes insisted. He referred to the growth of giant oaks, which live for centuries. Its decay is but the process of its growth. This idea was carried through a number of illustrations. The only exception to this rule is the human soul.

Rev. Barnes told his audience that man was purchased on the installment plan. The first installment was paid when Christ came into the world as a babe in the manger at Bethlehem. The second installment was at the time Christ's betrayal and mock trial. The third installment was the tragedy of the cross. The fourth was the triumphant resurrection.

Calling attention to the tremendous price paid for man's soul, Rev. Barnes declared God did not create man to associate with the beasts, but to soar in the realm of the divine.

Today—Gladys Leslie and Edward Earle are said to put over one of the best comedy dramas ever created in "The Little Runaway." The human, everyday incidents brought to life by the author, Paul West, and the clever manner in which they are interpreted by Miss Leslie and Mr. Earle, stand for a good percentage of the worth of the offering. The opening flash shows a typical village in the bog country of Ireland and the setting that Director Earle made ready for reproduction by the camera, would make a son of Ireland get out the old Henry Clay and reminisce of his boyhood days among the logs of the Emerald Isle. William Calhoun as the rent collector is one of the popular features of the film.

Wednesday—For the first time a great story is presented on the screen prior to its publication as a serial story in a magazine and in book form. "The Inn of the Blue Moon" is said to be such a remarkable story that from its synopsis Mr. Vance sold the serial publication rights to one of the foremost magazines in the country. He has also disposed of the book rights and "The Inn of the Blue Moon" will be issued in book form as soon as its publication is completed in the magazine. Like all of Vance's stories, "The Inn of the Blue Moon" is full of action and unexpected situations. Doris Kenyon plays twin sisters in two decidedly interesting phases of the film.

More's.

Today—Few artists of the silent drama have received the unstinted praise that have been afforded to Louise Glaum, who will be seen in her second Paralta play, "Shackled." Despite the fact that prior to her joining the Paralta forces she was known throughout the world as a "screen vampire," her interpretations were so cleverly enacted that, although she never secured the sympathy of her audience, there was something irresistible about her acting.

Wednesday—The story of "The City of Dim Faces" deals with a young Chinese-American college graduate, whose father is a Chinese merchant in San Francisco's Chinatown, and his mother a white woman. He is ignorant of the existence of his mother. He falls in love with a young woman and when she breaks their engagement he imprisons her in the same den in which his mother is confined, later selling her to a marriage broker, who places her on an auction block. It is when he sees the degradation of the woman he loves that the white blood in his veins asserts its power and remorse seizes him. He rescues his sweetheart, but only after a battle in which he is mortally wounded.

Thursday—A powerful mental battle between a beautiful girl and a learned judge is one of the gripping and dramatic scenes in "In Judgment Of." A young doctor is accused of murder. Among the spectators is a young girl who loves the doctor. With compelling insistence she keeps her eyes on the judge who, in turn, cannot escape the verdict of guilty is rendered by the jury the judge can stand it no longer and confesses that he is the real offender. The scene is intense and is acted in a superb manner.

He thinks it rained as much as seven inches around his community.

RED CROSS TO HAVE BOXES FOR SENDING GIFTS TO SOLDIERS

Each Fighting Man in France May Receive One Christmas Present but Government Prescribes Standard Package to Keep From Overcrowding Transportation Facilities.

The War Department is desirous that each man serving in the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe shall receive a remembrance from home at Christmas time, says a dispatch from Washington. However, because of transportation and distribution difficulties but one parcel can be sent to each man. The local Red Cross will be provided with cartons in which Christmas packages may be shipped. Packages must be mailed under the following conditions to members of the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe:

1. Each soldier or other member of the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe will be allowed to receive one Christmas parcel for which purpose he will be furnished, through army channels, a "Christmas Parcel Label" bearing the correct name and address of the soldier or member and also the name of the person designated to mail the parcel. The labels will be prepared to serve as address labels for the parcels. The label furnished each soldier or other member of the American Expeditionary Forces will be sent by him to the person who is to mail the Christmas parcel. No Christmas parcel for members of the Expeditionary Forces in Europe will be accepted for transmission without such label.

2. All Christmas parcels must be of standard size, 3 inches by 4 inches by 9 inches, and shall not exceed 3 pounds in weight for which purpose cartons of the size prescribed will be distributed through the local Red Cross chapters throughout the country. No person will be furnished a carton except upon presentation of a "Christmas Parcel Label" received from abroad.

3. The parcels must contain no prohibited or unmailable articles. Perishable food products are not permitted.

4. After the cartons have been filled by the persons who receive them, they shall be returned to a Red Cross receiving station where inspectors appointed by the Red Cross will carefully examine each parcel and supervise its wrapping and the affixing of the "Christmas Parcel Label" and the necessary postage stamps, the latter to be furnished by the sender of the parcel. When the parcels have thus been packed and wrapped and otherwise prepared for transmission, the Red Cross will affix to each parcel a certificate in the form of a seal showing that the parcel has been inspected and contains no prohibited or unmailable matter. Such certificates will be accepted by the Postal Service and Army authorities as evidence that the parcels conform to the conditions prescribed and obviate the necessity of subsequent examination. The parcels must be left at the Red Cross receiving stations which will deposit them in the mails for dispatch.

5. Christmas parcels must bear the name and address of the sender and will be addressed substantially as follows:

"Christmas Box Department, Port of Embarkation, Hoboken, New Jersey. For....."

Organization.....
American Expeditionary Forces
Parcels so addressed will be chargeable with postage at the fourth class or parcels post zone rate applicable between the office where mailed and Hoboken, New Jersey, to be prepaid by stamps affixed.

6. Parcels may bear inscriptions such as "Please do not open until Christmas," "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With Best Wishes" and the like.

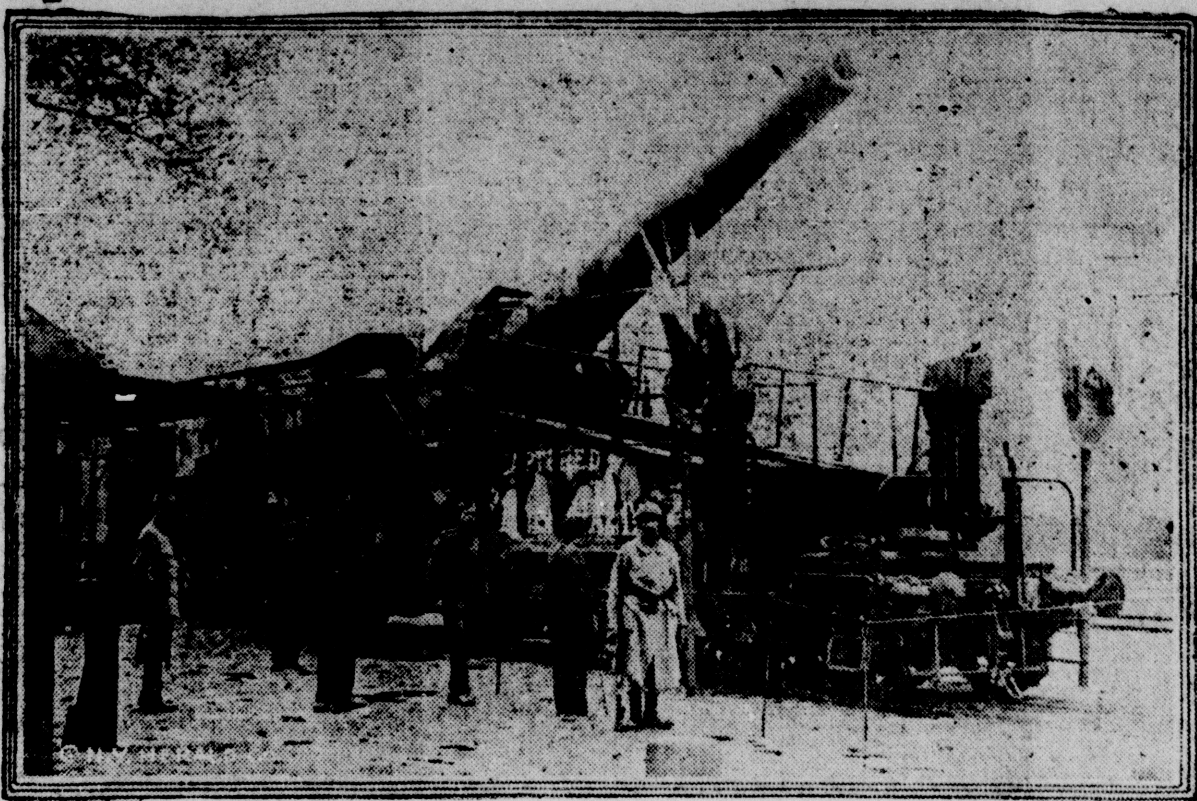

7. In order to assure the arrival of Christmas parcels abroad and the delivery to the addressee by Christmas all such parcels must be mailed on or before November 20, 1918.

The foregoing does not in any way change the instructions heretofore issued regarding the acceptance of parcels up to 7 pounds in weight for members of the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe which contain articles sent in response to the written request of a member approved by his regimental commander or other officer authorized to approve such requests.

Now that the "Big Berthas" have been silenced and the long distance bombardment has ceased, Paris, according to a letter received by Mr. William Moore Robinson, of Paris and this city, is its own bright self again, and pilgrimages to the Champ de Mars to inspect the "Bertha" captured from the Huns by the Australians of the British Fourth army, are the order of the day.

RED CROSS REPORT SHOWS 330 ARE ILL

EPIDEMIC OF INFLUENZA DOES NOT SEEM TO BE VERY FATAL IN WILBARGER.

Reports gathered by the local Red Cross do not indicate a wide-spread epidemic of Spanish Influenza in Wilbarger county, and the disease has not proved very fatal. So far only three deaths are reported, and the number of cases is 330. This report does not include Odell, but advices from there are to the effect that there is little sickness.

The Red Cross is making a regular report of the epidemic. Their figures show that last Tuesday there were 50 cases, the number had increased to 180 Thursday night, and figures gathered yesterday were 330.

The following suggestions have been issued for combating Spanish Influenza:

"1.—Do not call doctors and nurses unnecessarily—they are urgently needed for those who are seriously ill. In the days of our grandmothers, every good housewife was expected to know a great deal about the care of the sick.

"2.—If you feel sick, go to bed. The sickroom should be cleared of all unnecessary furniture, bed-a-brac and rugs.

"3.—If patient is feverish a doctor should be called and this should be done in any case if the patient appears very sick or coughs up pinkish (blood stained) sputum or breathes rapidly or painfully.

"4.—Discharges from the nose and throat should be collected on bits of rags or paper napkins and afterwards burned.

"5.—Patients will not be hungry and the diet should, therefore, be light. Milk, a soft boiled egg, some toast or crackers, a bit of jelly or jam, stewed fruit, some cooked cereal like oatmeal, hominy or rice—these will suffice in most cases.

"6.—Little things contributing to the comfort of patient must not be overlooked. Among these may be mentioned a well ventilated room; a thoroughly clean bed, with fresh smooth sheets and pillow cases, quiet so that refreshing sleep may be had; cool drinking water conveniently placed; a cool compress to the forehead, if there is a headache; keeping the patient's hands and face clean and the hair combed; keeping his mouth clean, pre-wash; letting the patient know that some one is in call, but not annoying him with too much fussing.

"7.—Give the sick room a good airing several times a day.

"8.—The attendant should wear a mask over the mouth and nose while in the sick room.

"9.—Remember that the disease is spread by breathing germ laden matter sprayed in the air by the patient in coughing or in ordinary breathing.

"10.—Finally, if in doubt, call the doctor."

"4. Graduate Nurses to Aid Call Field. Four graduate nurses from Wichita Falls have volunteered to help the Red Cross nurses at Call Field for the period of the Spanish influenza epidemic. The names of these patriotic young ladies are: Misses Blake, Gussie Morehead, Ada King, and Dixie King. Three of these have gone out the latter part of the week, Miss Blake and the Misses King have volunteered for overseas duty and the latter will leave November 1, but has offered her services to Call Field until that time. All these nurses are well known in Vernon.

STONE COPING FALLS.

Little Damage Done When Rock Being Used to Finish Perkins-Timberlake Building Topples.

The stone coping which was being placed on the front of the new building to be occupied by Perkins-Timberlake Dry Goods Company fell Saturday morning, and carried out part of the brick facing for a depth of nearly two feet underneath it. Stone had been placed almost entirely across the front of the building, and it fell from a space about 30 feet wide. Fortunately no one was underneath when it crashed into the sidewalk. Within a short time the brick had been replaced, a scaffold built to help support the projecting weight of the stone, and the work resumed.

Tells Why a Corn Is So Painful and Says Cutting Makes Them Grow.

Press an electric button and you form a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When your shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and you get a shock of pain.

Instead of trimming your corn, which merely makes them grow, just step into any drug store and ask for a quarter of an ounce of freezone. This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn cures the soreness instantly, and soon the corn shrivels up so it lifts right out, root and all, without pain. This drug freezone is harmless and never it flames or even irritates the surrounding skin.

COMPULSORY HEALTH.

Compulsory health is not one whit less important than compulsory education. This is, in effect, the statement of Dr. Fred Peterson of New York City. Dr. Peterson is one of the foremost authorities on the subject in America.

The selective draft has revealed defects in nearly 30 per cent of our young men. cursory examinations of school children have frequently shown 75 per cent defective in some way—most generally minor, it is true—but nevertheless a growing menace to the health and efficiency of the race. All of these facts urge some action for improving the physique of the race.

"We have spent millions of dollars on the swine plague, foot and mouth disease in cattle, on pine blister, gypsy moth, and chicken cholera," Dr. Peterson exclaims, "but we have not spent anything on our greatest national asset—the health of the bodies of our school children."

"We have spent millions of dollars for the medical care of our insane—why not spend something to eliminate some of the causes of insanity?"

Dr. Peterson reasons that the body is the foundation on which the mental structure must rise. And since we have compulsory education, why not have compulsory health?

The plan suggests that teachers should be given better sanitary conditions for their own health; fuller instruction in all that has to do with the laws of health; every city and country school should be made sanitary and kept so, and school grounds should be beautified.

Every child should be weighed and measured regularly, and its health record kept. The plan would make it the duty of authorities to see that defects of our young are corrected and disorders of clothing, growth and nutrition remedied. It would provide adequate physical training in schools, together with a thorough system of instruction in all matters pertaining to health, with special emphasis on health problems, rather than disease, on the responsibility of parenthood, of public health and sanitation, and on methods for avoiding communicable diseases, and for all that relates to nutrition and growth, including foods and food values.

Sounds reasonable. The plan ought to mean stronger men and women, and a great deal less suffering, inefficiency, and crime—with all of the happiness resulting from such a condition.

THE HABIT OF HAPPINESS.

"I paid $20 to hear Jenny Lind sing; I wouldn't give a farthing to hear her whine," the great William Everett Gladstone is reputed to have said. Thus England's greatest statesman summed up the gospel of "Happiness." Solomon framed the same idea in slightly different words when he exclaimed, "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine!" And the old proverb has come down to us, "Laugh and grow fat."

The habit of happiness, for it is largely a habit, is one that which there is none of larger influence upon humanity. And while one's disposition depends a great deal on his liver, yet whether we smile or frown depends just as much, or more, on the color of glasses we look through. God is now, and always has been, in His heaven. If we but look at matters when the humblest individual does not have much to be thankful for. Then too, whatever our load, it is lightened by smiling.

"Smile a smile, and while you smile another smiles, and soon there's smiles and miles of smiles, and life's worth while—if we but smile." Get the habit of happiness. It is doubly important in war time.

"Send us men, guns, and supplies quickly, and we will win in 1919," is General Pershing's answer to Germany's request for a negotiated peace. That seems to be generally the answer men of vision would make, unless Germany surrenders unconditionally. Then, and only then, can we falter. A nation to whom a solemn treaty is merely a "scrap of paper," who has excused every brutality the human mind can conceive as a "necessity of war," and who continues burning and otherwise making desert all of Northern France must give up unconditionally before the world will be a safe place. While peace talk is being fanned by German propagandists all over the world, it is gratifying to realize that America presses forward in the creation of a war machine, not yet one-fourth completed. By next summer our promise of 20,000 airplanes in Europe will be fulfilled; by June our effective army will number not less than 3,000,000 men. By that time we may expect German junkers will be willing to consider a safe peace. No other kind is worth while.

Remember that Spanish Influenza is spread by breathing germ laden matter sprayed in the air by the patient in coughing or in ordinary breathing, is a suggestion of United States Surgeon General Blue. Since this is true, is the person who thoughtlessly coughs or clears his throat and spits in a public place less culpable than the man who sells you poisoned food or distributes milk from a tubercular cow? It is an easy thing to cover one's nose when sneezing, or one's mouth when coughing, to prevent spreading disease germs. Spitting in public places, always disgusting and insanitary, becomes a menace now which is culpable. If nothing else is available, the handkerchief is a reasonably safe place for sputum, as well as for deposits resulting from coughing or sneezing, or blowing the nose.

Hallucinations of the Prussian.

The pro-Prussian in America who camouflages on patriotism and pretends to be an enemy of the Kaiser, but at the same time spreads the poison of Hun propaganda in a way so subtle that the Espionage Act cannot reach him, is just as dangerous, if not more so, to the cause of civilization than the Prussian soldier who murders innocent infants and forces young girls into white slavery in Belgium and other territory occupied by the German armies. Now is the time, when Germany sees her fate is final defeat, that the pro-Prussians in America will aid in the Kaiser's peace offensive by talking loud, presumably for America by declaring: "Drive the Germans back to the Rhine and then we will have some basis on which to talk peace."

Stop at the Rhine and make peace! Ah, there is the dose of subtle Hun poison hidden in that very idea. To cross the Rhine means the Allies will carry the war into Germany and let some of the barbaric blood of the Prussians stain the soil of the fatherland. That thought isn't pleasant to the Prussian propagandist.

But why should the Allies care anything about the Rhine? Why not go on to Berlin and to Potsdam? Why show mercy to the unspeakable beings who have committed deeds that are worse than heathenish in the army zone? Why show mercy to the German woman who, as a Red Cross nurse in a prison hospital beyond the Rhine, spits in the soup she gives it to a hungry Allied prisoner, and he must eat it or starve? Why not carry the war to the very doors of the men and women in the fatherland who held jubilee mass meetings to celebrate the sinking of the Lusitania and the drowning of hundreds of women and babies?

To show the character of the deeds that the people beyond the Rhine have praised, Frederick C. Walcott, an American, in an account of a visit to Poland, after the Hindenburg raid in September, 1917, says:

"Wicker baskets—the little basket in which the baby swings from the rafter in every peasant home—were scattered along the way, hundreds and hundreds, until one could not count them, each one telling of a death."

In speaking of the German denial of proven cases where Prussian soldiers cut off the hands of Belgian children, Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, in a report to his government, says:

"But whether their hands were cut off or not, whether they were impaled on bayonets or not, children were shot down, by military order, in cold blood. In the awful crime of the Rock of Bayard, there overlooking the Huse below Dinant, infants in their mothers' arms were shot down without mercy. The deed was never surpassed in cruelty by any band of savages."

And it was the German people beyond the Rhine who gloated over the news of these horrors in stricken Belgium.

Yes, why stop at the Rhine!—Kansas City Star.

They Want to Know Why.

"Why did we ever raid London and Paris?" This is said to be a frequent lamenting question in the mouths of Germans living in the towns where raids have come home to roost. It is at least a recognition of the fact that what is now being executed upon them is the villainy which they themselves taught. In so far, it is more respectable than the cowardly attitude and disgusting hypocrisy of some of the officials of the Rhine cities. They have been passing resolutions calling upon the German Government to seek an agreement with the allies whereby places behind the lines shall be exempt from aerial bombing. That this is both impudent and indecent does not seem to occur to these simple-minded and panic-stricken burgomasters. Did one of them ever raise so much as a whispered protest when Antwerp was bombed? Did they do anything but rub their hands in gloating satisfaction when news came of women and children in London being killed by German air raiders? It is only when bombs drop in their own streets that they awake to the horror of what Germany began and has kept up with all her might. It is, indeed, a fearful thing—this dealing out of death to non-combatants—but the Germans would cut a better figure if they took their own medicine without all this whining. If the allies learned bombing from them, they might at least learn how to endure it with the unshaken nerve of Englishmen or the gay defiance of France.—New York Evening Post.

DEFENSE COUNCIL CALLS DAMAGE TO CHURCH VANDALISM

Wilbarger Body Questions Patriotism of Persons Guilty of Damage to Lutheran Church as Well as Those Who Destroy Property of Any Kind During War.

The Wilbarger County Council of Defense questions the loyalty of the person or persons guilty of shooting three windows out of the Lutheran church building in East Vernon recently. It also raises a question as to the Americanism of any one guilty of defacing or damaging property while the nation is straining its energies to defeat the German—whether the vandalism takes the form of shooting up church buildings, street lights, telephone cables, or some other thing.

The following resolution was adopted by the local Council of Defense, stating its position:

"The Wilbarger County Council of Defense learns with deep regret that the Lutheran church building in East Vernon was damaged during the so-called patriotic demonstration on the night of Saturday, October 5th.

"This Council, charged as it is with the duty of assisting the regular authorities in preserving the peace of the community in these war times, desires in the most emphatic way to condemn the acts of lawlessness which resulted in the damage to the Lutheran Church and other property in the city.

"The destruction of property is an act of vandalism, worthy of the Hun, and that such things should occur in America is to be regretted by all patriotic citizens. It is just this sort of practice that the Allies are fighting to prevent. Americans should let the Hun enjoy the monopoly he has heretofore had on such practices.

"We trust that the peace officers will endeavor to ascertain the persons responsible for the damage done to the Lutheran Church and other property and see that the full penalties of the law are visited upon the guilty parties.

"Shooting up church buildings, street lights, telephone cables and the like, not only is not patriotic, but is a reproach upon the loyalty and patriotism of the persons guilty of such practices."

URGES WOMEN TO SMILE.

Vernon Writer Says Wives and Mothers Should Not Make Task Harder for Loved Ones.

Women should smile in an effort to make the burden of their husbands, sons, and brothers lighter, is the opinion of Mrs. Pearl Pearce, when these men must go to war.

Mrs. Pearce says:

"We, as a nation had to enter this great war to protect ourselves and future generations from a hell on earth. I know we women are brave enough to undertake any task set before us, and I know it hurts our men to know of the selfish feelings some of us bear in our hearts for 'my' husband or 'my' son.

"We know this war must be won even if the women should have to shoulder a gun to help. I am sure it made our patriotic men feel sad and maybe a little contempt for the selfishness shown on registration day, when mothers and wives were weeping with their arms thrown around their loved ones, hindering rather than helping them.

"Where is the mother who would hold her husband back and see her child treated as the poor Belgian children have been treated? She would fling her own body in the jaws of death rather than that.

"If our husbands and sons must go, let's wear a smile on our lips even if our hearts break at the parting. Send them with a God speed and a prayerful heart, making our heroes feel that they are leaving heroines here to receive them back home."

Signed, "A wife and mother,
"MRS. PEARL PEARCE."

CALLS WEST CHESTY.

State Press Says Weather Clerks Decline to Change Prediction for West Texas.

In response to a request from that affable fellow-citizen, C. S. McColloch, that State Press ask the weather clerks of the Dallas News to change their weather prediction of "fair and warmer" for Western Texas, State Press has the following to say:

"Writing from Wilbarger County, a patron of this column addresses a request to some person whom he designates as 'Dear Old S. P.' Now, State Press sometimes refers to himself as S. P., and others sometimes refer to him as Dear—but there is no authority, leave or license anywhere for anybody to call him 'Old S. P.'"

"When folks begin calling folks old, folks get old pretty soon. They get so used to hearing themselves called the old man, or the old sport or the old cuss, they concede age to themselves. This thing State Press does not concede to himself. He is young—not young enough to be a doughboy, maybe, but not old enough to look old. This explanation ought to suffice for all time to come.

"Now to the request from Wilbarger. Tell the weather clerk to change his prediction for Western Texas, as it has been 'fair and warmer' for two years, and is getting on our nerves. It is a reasonable favor to ask. One kind of weather gets mighty monotonous if long persisted in, and two years is too long for any single spell of weather. There are thunderstorms in heaven, it is believed, not because the climate there may be capricious or vindictive, but because there is nothing like a nice thunderstorm for clearing the notes and beams out of an atmosphere grown lethargic for lack of exercise.

"But the weather clerks, in so far as State Press has consulted them, are unanimous in declining to interfere in Western Texas for the present. If the people of that part of the country were allowed to have diversified weather they would grow 'too chesty'. All of us realize that when things are 'right' in Western Texas the Western Texans look contemptuously upon all other portions, parts and parcels of the world, and some of them even regard heaven as probably a sickly sort of place where croquet is considered a strenuous exercise. "You see," went on the weather clerk, "it is necessary sometimes to bide a haughty population, to reduce their chest measurements and deprive them of their spurs, so to speak. Look what happened to Pharaoh, several thousand years ago, and what is happening to the Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs today. The Western Texans were a proud, condescending folk," continued the speaker, "wiping his mouth on his wrist, and we had to get their cattle and cotton along with their goat." Of course State Press doesn't agree with the weather clerks. He is only reporting what they said."

DON'T SCOLD, MOTHER!

THE CROSS CHILD IS BILIOUS, FEVERISH

Look at Tongue! If Coated, Clean Little Stomach, Liver Bowls.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

WILSON'S 14 PEACE PRINCIPLES NAMED

Washington, Oct. 14.—President Wilson's program of world peace stated in fourteen terms in his address last January 8, and which the German Chancellor now says Germany accepts without qualification is as follows:

1. Open covenants of peace, openly arrived at, after which there shall be no private international understanding of any kind, but diplomacy shall proceed always frankly and in the public view.

2. Absolute freedom of navigation upon the seas, outside territorial waters, alike in peace and in war, except as the seas may be closed in whole or in part by international action for the enforcement of international covenants.

3. The removal so far as possible of all economic barriers and the establishment of an equality of trade conditions among all nations consenting to the peace and associating themselves for its maintenance.

4. Adequate guarantees given and taken that national armaments will be reduced to the lowest point consistent with domestic safety.

5. A free, open-minded and absolutely impartial adjustment of all colonial claims, based on a strict observance of the principles that in determining all such questions of sovereignty the interests of the populations concerned must have equal weight with the equitable claims of the Government whose title is to be determined.

6. The evacuation of all Russian territory and such a settlement of all questions affecting Russia as will secure the best and freest co-operation of the other nations of the world in obtaining for her an unhampered and unembarrassed opportunity for the independent determination of her own political development and national policy and assure here of a sincere welcome into the society of free nations under institutions of her own choosing, and, more than a welcome, assistance also of every kind that she may need and may herself desire.

7. Belgium, the whole world will agree, must be evacuated and restored without any attempt to limit the sovereignty which she enjoys in common with all other free nations. No other single act will serve as this will serve to restore confidence among the nations in the laws which they, themselves, have set and determined for the government of their relations with one another. Without this healing act the whole structure and validity of international law is forever impaired.

8. All French territory should be freed and the invaded portions restored and the wrong done to France in 1871 in the matter of Alsace-Lorraine which has unsettled the peace of the world for nearly fifty years, should be righted in order that peace may once more be made secure in the interest of all.

10. The peoples of Austria-Hungary, whose place among the nations we wish to see safeguarded and assured, should be accorded the freest opportunity of autonomous development.

11. Johnson bought a second-hand motor-car, which turned out to be a cripple on four wheels rather than a pleasure vehicle. He was describing some of the patient's symptoms to a friend.

"I take it, then, that she rattles a good deal when you run her?"

"Rattle!" said the owner of the car. "She sounds like a skeleton having a shaking fit on a tin roof!"—Tit-Bits.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe

For months Vernon readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. What other remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit?

Do Women Read Advertising?

The Women's Advertising Club of Los Angeles has issued a little booklet setting forth the results of a questionnaire conducted by the club to determine the attitude of women generally toward advertising in its various forms of appeal.

It is shown that newspaper advertising leads all other forms in its interest for women by a substantial margin. Eighty-three per cent of the women interrogated read the newspaper advertising regularly; 8 per cent read it occasionally or seldom; 3 per cent are noncommittal and 6 per cent do not read it at all.

Some curious facts are shown in this investigation. Seventy-five per cent of the women interrogated read street car advertisements, but only 4 per cent say that street car advertisements influence them more than other forms of advertising—while 36 per cent state that newspaper advertising interests them most. Fifty-four per cent read billboard advertisements, while about 4 per cent confess that these ads appeal to them more strongly than other advertising.

So the story runs as to all lines of advertising specified. Magazine advertising is read by 72 per cent of the women listed, but is preferred to other forms of advertising by about 22 per cent. Seventy-three per cent express confidence in advertising generally, while 78 per cent find that sometimes merchandise is not as represented in ads.

Only 35 per cent express confidence in comparative prices in advertisements, while 60 per cent prefer mere statements of facts and prices.

The fact which stands out in this investigation, the Editor and Publisher comments, is that but six out of every hundred women admit that they do not read newspaper advertising at all. It may be safe to assume that this small proportion of women do not read the news either, with any regularity—that they are, in effect, out of touch with the world in which they live. They constitute almost a negligible factor in the plans of an advertiser to "reach all of the people."

Military Music

The predominating note in the world today is military. Always, through all the history of music, martial measures have inspired men to battle and steered their women with the courage to send them forth to win.

These are stirring times and the music of today is stirring. Many of the songs we hear now for the first time are destined to become immortal—to stand forever as monuments to our glory and the glory of our Allies. "Over There" is such a song—"Tipperary" another.

There are thirty-eight individuals in the new city directory with the name of Smith. "And this is not all of the Smiths," said an employee of the local postoffice. Brown does not seem to be popular in Vernon, as there are only nine persons of that name listed in the directory. Thirteen persons have the name of Berry; there are twelve Thompsons, ten Whites, and nine persons listed under the head each of Stephens and Williams.
